Slam Dunk for Diabetes is a nonprofit 501(c)(3) that reaches over 200 diabetic kids in the Midwest each year, many of whom may never have had an opportunity to attend diabetes camp. Campers are able to have fun learning the skills and fundamentals of basketball while also learning to manage their diabetes. The medical and coaching staff is dedicated to motivating them through exercise to become life-long self managers of their diabetes, build confidence and promote emotional well-being.
